Spoonbread Report 2017 – David Rowlette

Rowlette noted that lodging rates were up for the weekend. Some restaurants reported having an increase of 15%-30% over the last event. Lee’s Famous Recipe had a record breaking day on Saturday. Events they brought back were the cornhole tournament on Friday night, and the dog show. Tourism granted $5,000 for advertising, they spent a total of $11,200 on media campaign. This does not include in-kind that some business gave. 19,000 people said they were attending Friday on Facebook. Berea Chamber of Commerce has to raise around $100,000 to pull off the event. They had a record year for sponsorships and vendor participations. For the first time they had an ATM available inside the Russel Action Folk Center, a total of $21,000 was pulled from this ATM. Light House allowed parking in their green space, Foothill double the number of shuttles. Dates are set for next year. Surveys were handed out, and are now being received. Rowlette thanked the Commission for the advertising budget.

Battle of Richmond Report 2017 – Sharon Graves

Graves handed out a paper with the totals on each day. Saturday, they had a total of 114 counties, 40 of them were separate. Sunday, they had a total of 77 counties, 27 of them were separate. Total amount of people attended were 129, there were a total of 13 vendors, 2 of which were food vendors. Graves thanked the City of Berea for the tent provided, and the setup/take down. Grant money went towards the 6-passenger golf cart that transports people. Graves asked for banners that represent Berea Tourism to go on these golf carts. Graves thanked the Berea Tourism Commission for the grant money and the help for the event this year.
