Feb Group Report

Thurs Feb. 14
Met with KY Stormwater Conference leader and Patrick Huston from Boone Tavern. The Conference will be held at Boone Tavern in June and she is currently working with organizer to plan various Berea outings, gifts for speakers, welcome bags, etc.

Feb. 23rd-27th
Attended Travel South Showcase. Had scheduled appointments with 38 owners/operators of motorcoach companies. Met with several others during various networking events. Objective to have them bring their groups to Berea.

Tues Feb. 26
Group of 40 from Indiana came to Berea for day. Helped arrange private music for them after lunch, take tour of new College Forestry Outreach Center, etc.

Art Accelerator

Gallery 123 has settled in nicely back to 123 N. Broadway in Old Town. They have been working hard producing for Kentucky Crafted and designing their booth for that trade show. We had 304 visitors for the month and $374 worth of sales. Jeffrey has posted the new prospectus and application for the class of 2019-2020. He has sent this to over 300 art schools, craft schools, art councils in major cities, and state art commissions in bordering states. Corcoran Art School through Georgetown University was the first to post it on their web site on the 28th. Jeffrey hopes to get more exposure for the program through this process. We will start vetting the new prospects in April. The gallery re-opening party was held on March 9th.

Ky Crafted March 15-17, Alltech Arena Lexington, KY.

Pins and Needles Retreat

Kerri Hensley presented a PowerPoint Presentation provided by Fiber Frenzy regarding their successful Pins and Needles Retreat.
The retreat had a national appeal, with 51.9% of attendees being from the U.S. outside of KY. During the retreat, they stayed at the Historic Boone Tavern Hotel, and also enjoyed dining out and shopping at local businesses around Berea.

Meeting adjourned at 5:59pm.
